These documented communication struggles illustrate the difficulties Ryan faced when attempting to enforce financial compliance and policy adherence.

Please send all the original high quality files by email or Google Photos. Tx	Sent: 11/03/2024 at 03:07 PM From: Jennifer Egeland To: Ryan Egeland Subject: Re: Basketball I have one. I don't want it to be going back-and-forth. It'll be too annoying to get it back from you.	Refusal/Excuse: Claiming adherence to the proper method (sending the bill via OFW) would be "too annoying."
11/15/2024	Sent: 11/15/2023 at 10:21 AM From: Ryan Egeland To: Jennifer Egeland Subject: Re: Vaccines I saw your expense submission for reimbursement. The charges of $347 are not joint for the reasons I explained in OFW prior. If you resubmit for the appropriate price of $35 each (plus tax/fees), I'll accept.	(No direct response addressing the request to resubmit the expense at the correct price was immediately found in the sources. Subsequent messages from Jennifer changed the subject to Thanksgiving or new expenses.)	Non-Response/Ignored Instruction: Did not acknowledge or agree to resubmit the corrected expense request.
2/21/2024	Sent: 02/21/2024 at 03:07 PM From: Ryan Egeland To: Jennifer Egeland Subject: Re: Medical Records and Pediatrician Details I find only a minute clinic receipt in my email. Please send me anything you sent by OFW (not email), as we are obligated to do. I am simply asking for the pediatrician's name, as well as the office visit notes to confirm Ada's evaluation and diagnosis. I originally asked for this simple information on Feb 4, but have not yet received a response.	Sent: 02/21/2024 at 07:55 AM From: Jennifer Egeland To: Ryan Egeland Subject: Re: Medical Records and Pediatrician Details Sent in email. Like I said. Figure out who the providers are.	Deflection/Refusal: Refusing to provide documentation via the mandated channel (OFW) and insisting Ryan locate the information himself.
2/3/2025	Sent: 02/03/2025 at 10:15 PM From: Ryan Egeland To: Jennifer Egeland Subject: Re: Expenses Please submit the receipt for the actual visit charges with that information.	Sent: 02/04/2025 at 11:25 AM From: Jennifer Egeland To: Ryan Egeland Subject: Re: Expenses This is all i could find. It's clearly the bill. It would be nice if you don't try to exhaust me with semantics. It would be great if like one thing could be done without a back and forth argument from you. If you don't pay it. I'm not gonna argue with you. You can always call allina, you know, ada's information. But I will have to take it to my lawyer. I'm just letting you know, but I will not be going back and forth anymore.	Deflection/Threat: Accusing Ryan of using "semantics" to "exhaust" her, refusing further discussion, and threatening to involve her lawyer.
6/16/2025	Sent: 06/16/2025 at 03:06 PM From: Ryan Egeland To: Jennifer Egeland Subject: Re: Medical expense Please resubmit in OFW so we have all the records captured. The expense also needs the following: 1) Receipts showing amounts paid (expense only has invoices). 2) Explanation of charges/expenses for Kelsey Lien - was this urgent care? I don't recall the reason for the visit, or discussing Mae visiting this specific clinic in Wayzata.	Sent: 06/16/2025 at 10:55 PM From: Jennifer Egeland To: Ryan Egeland Subject: Re: Medical expense Attached is another receipt. I also sent the summary via email from maes appointment with Dr. Lien. I sent you everything that you need. I will just go to my lawyer if you keep arguing semantics. You have receipts.	Threat/Deflection: Claiming she sent "everything," calling Ryan's request "arguing semantics," and immediately threatening legal action.
6/17/2025	Sent: 06/17/2025 at 03:03 PM From: Ryan Egeland To: Jennifer Egeland Subject: Communication Policy and Comms You requested I check OFW more frequently. That will happen when messages respect our policy. I requested receipts via OFW expenses. I and most anyone would consider the below message to include a threat. Do you feel this exchange respects policy?	Sent: 06/17/2025 at 03:04 PM From: Jennifer Egeland To: Ryan Egeland Subject: Re: Communication Policy and Comms It's not a threat. I'm not gonna argue with you. I put the receipt in the ofw expense. you can see that it's a medical expense with the girls names on there.	Deflection/Denial: Denying that her previous explicit threat was a threat, thus evading accountability regarding communication policy adherence.
6/18/2025	Sent: 06/18/2025 at 07:24 AM From: Ryan Egeland To: Jennifer Egeland Subject: Re: Communication Policy and Comms Again, entirely unjustified threats are not typical forms of communications, nor do they follow policy. Your original request did not contain receipts, and was inflated by $207.33. I paid all proper expenses and will continue to do so. I will not reimburse inflated or inaccurate expense claims, or those without receipts. Thanks	Sent: 06/19/2025 at 07:10 AM From: Jennifer Egeland To: Ryan Egeland Subject: Re: Medical expense Ryan... you aren't following custody terms. The parent who has the kid makes the medical decision. You were informed. Its expensive because the insurance isnt great.	Deflection/Accusation: Ignoring the documentation and inflation claims entirely, shifting the argument to accuse Ryan of violating custody terms regarding medical decisions.

6/19/2025	Sent: 06/19/2025 at 07:47 AM From: Ryan Egeland To: Jennifer Egeland Subject: Re: Ymca When expenses submitted have legitimate receipts that equal the amount requested I will will approve them. This one does not. As I mentioned, I am not able to engage in text exchanges about this or future missing expenses documentation again. Thanks	Sent: 06/19/2025 at 07:40 AM From: Jennifer Egeland To: Ryan Egeland Subject: Re: Communication Policy and Comms Ryan you cant not tell me why you aren't paying for something. If you want to make this another thing...fine. I will just go my lawyer. Or jennifer. Costing you more. Im not going to beg you. It is quite possible that you and I have a different perspective of things. You cant just say im wrong because I don't do something the way you like or want.	Threat/Emotional Appeal: Responding to the rejection of the receipt by focusing on the argument itself, issuing another threat, and declaring she won't "beg."
8/26/2025	Sent: 08/26/2025 at 10:30 AM From: Ryan Egeland To: Jennifer Egeland Subject: Expense Submissions 1. For Mae's medical expenses, you are required to submit a payment of receipt. You submitted an insurance estimate of charges. 2. You have submitted many expenses for trivial charges for kids supplies, sports equipment, etc. Please send me the language in the court order which directs us to submit those, as I couldn't find it. 3. Given the documented history of inaccurate expenses including inflated charges, I may reject expenses without proper receipts in the future. To avoid this and any potential conflict, I suggest submitting complete receipts as a PDF, and not partial screenshots.	Sent: 08/26/2025 at 11:10 AM From: Jennifer Egeland To: Ryan Egeland Subject: Re: Expense Submissions Please stop trying to argue with me on everything. This is so dumb. I will give you whatever you need.Ryan. just ask.	Emotional Deflection/Feigned Confusion: Characterizing the detailed instructions as a "dumb" argument and denying that she understood what was needed, despite Ryan's clear, multi-point list.
8/29/2025	Sent: 08/29/2025 at 08:57 AM From: Ryan Egeland To: Jennifer Egeland Subject: Re: Expense Submissions Why have you not responded to this question? I don't recall anything in the order. (Referring to the lack of legal basis for submitting expenses for "trivial charges".)	Sent: 08/29/2025 at 08:59 AM From: Jennifer Egeland To: Ryan Egeland Subject: Re: Expense Submissions There shouldn't have to be in order for you to pay half of the school supplies. And paying for activities includes sports gear. You didn't answer my question. Do you feel that it's only my responsibility to get the girls' school supplies? You just assume i'm going to do it, and then you don't split it with me.That's all i'm asking. I'm not gonna argue with you if you're going to be petty about this. It's sad to me that you need orders to be reasonable.	Deflection/Accusation: Avoiding the legal question about the court order by attacking Ryan's character, calling him "petty," and demanding he answer her rhetorical question about his intentions.
9/1/2025	Sent: 09/01/2025 at 09:48 AM From: Ryan Egeland To: Jennifer Egeland Subject: Re: Expense Submissions Please cancel all requests for expenses not part of the court order. As I said, I will not renegotiate or discuss terms of your financial support on ofw.	Sent: 09/01/2025 at 09:50 AM From: Jennifer Egeland To: Ryan Egeland Subject: Re: Expense Submissions Tell me what part is not part of the court order? Certainly, the soccer gear is part of activities? Are you...	Evasion: Refusing to comply with the cancellation request and demanding Ryan enumerate which items violate the court order, placing the burden back on him.
9/12/2025	Sent: 09/12/2025 at 06:28 AM From: Ryan Egeland To: Jennifer Egeland Subject: Re: Tomorrow we'll child I am taking the non-response below as confirmation of the factual record within OFW as described. Your actions ignored the intent and obligations of joint custody. The choice of clinics and providers, scheduling of appointments, and visits all happened without any record in OFW of a single good faith effort to involve or even inform me. When routine, non-emergency medical decisions and visits don't appropriately involve or include me, I will not reimburse the associated expenses. Thanks	(No response from Jennifer to this message is recorded in the sources.)	Non-Response: Did not address the final policy declaration that non-compliant medical expenses would be rejected.
